[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 5.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Conspiracies Unravelled

VERSAILLES, June 3.—Archbishop Darboy will be buried on Wednesday. On that day the Assembly will suspend its session.

The Insurgent who commanded the shooting of the Archbishop has been discovered through his own boasting.

Another notable insurgent boasts that the burning of Paris will be considered insignificant when London docks, with all their wealth are consumed as a grand lesson to the middle classes of Europe. London, Liverpool and Bristol will, it is said, be the next scene of operations. Papers have been discovered which show that the arsons of the Communists were directed from London.

Despatches from Berlin

BERLIN, June 3.—It is ascertained that chiefs of International clubs and several English were among the insurgents.

Emperor William has decided the San Juan question in favor of the United States.

The bill incorporating Alsace with the German Empire has been read and placed before the German Parliament.

Dispatches from Paris

PARIS, June 4.—No one is allowed to leave the city after 8 o'clock in the evening from which hour the gates are shut and cavalry patrols the streets and suburbs until morning.

A commission appointed for the re organization of the army decided in favor of compulsory service of all Frenchmen, against the advice of President Thiers who recommended the restoration of the law of 1832.

The Legitimo estimates the number of men who bore arms in the late insurrection, and who have not yet been identified or arrested, at 10 000.

The police are in constant danger from violence at the hands of insurgents.

Grousset was arrested to-day in Paris.

The report that a motion will be made in the Assembly to protect Thiers' powers is confirmed.

Executions at Versailles are still numerous.

All the Paris journals are discussing what shall be done with the Orleans Princes. Some appeal to their patriotism and ask them to resign their seats in the Assembly.

The Liberte demands the establishment of a liberal Republic after the model of the United States and Switzerland.

Dispatch from Brussels

BRUSSELS June 4.—The Independence Belge says diplomatic relations between France and Germany will soon be resumed. It is probable that Marquis de Galeriac will be French Charge d Affairs at Berlin and Count Holsenfeld will be German Representative at Versailles.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Launch of a New Vessel

SEATTLE, June 5.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to launch the ship Welchwood at Port Madison on Saturday evening. The beach beneath the ways had not been sufficiently excavated to admit of the passage of the deep keel, and after moving her length down the incline the forward part of the keel got fast aground and the vessel could not be moved by the combined effort of four powerful tugs. She was freed when the tide receded and successfully floated off on last night's high tide without damage. This vessel is the largest ever built on the Pacific coast. The following are her dimensions: Length of keel, 187½, over all, 200 feet; beam, 42 feet; depth of hold, 22 feet. The model is that of a full clipper, having 27 inches dead rise with sharp ends, and calculated to rank among the fastest sailers. Her carrying capacity of general merchandise is about 1 700 tons, and for lumber, about one million feet.

THE TERRITORIES

Forty thousand dollars will be expended in extending the public surveys in Washington Territory this year.

Starr's new steamer, built at San Francisco for Puget Sound, sailed from the former for the latter place on the 31st May.

Newspapers at Olympia make holidays often. The Daily Tribune suspended publication in order to give all hands a holiday to go and see the launch at Port Madison.

A few days ago the U. S. Flagship Saranac anchored in Port Town end harbor. The hero of the Kearsarge, Rear Admiral John A. Winslow, is in her. The Saranac is bark rigged has paddle wheels, is of 1,446 tons, and carries 13 guns.

The Olympia Transcript learns from good authority that the Northern Pacific Railroad Company are preparing to have the lands adjoining their line in this land district examined with a view to be ready for the market certain to follow upon the completion of the work.

The Salt Lake News says that the grasshoppers are terribly destructive in portions of Utah, and the people are fighting them like mad. A blacksmith of that city has invented a machine which he thinks would be very effective in catching and killing grasshoppers. It consists of a frame drawn by two horses, having an apron extending forward close to the ground to scrape up the locusts, with a hood above it forming a box open in front. At the rear of the machine is a pair of rollers, geared together, the upper one driven by the carrying wheels of which it forms the axle. Whatever may find its way into the front of the machine is obliged to pass between the rollers at the back, which are capable of being forced close together.

CURRENT NOTES

Capt. C. J. Hall has started on his Arctic expedition to be absent at least three years. The object is to reach the open Polar Sea and the North Pole.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson has written in support of the ratification and has contributed largely to the success of the Treaty of Washington and his influence in this particular has been duly acknowledged by Senators of both political parties.

Illinois has strange ways, even of committing suicide. In Warrensburg recently, Mrs. Alice Day discovered her husband had another wife and shot herself dead. The husband who was in prison for bigamy at the time when he heard of the self murder of one of his consorts was so overcome with sorrow and remorse that having nothing else within reach, he swallowed a box of hooks and eyes, a bottle of hair dye a brass breast pin, several pieces of glass, six vest buttons and a small penknife. These miscellaneous articles did not prove fatal, but at last accounts Day complained of indigestion.

The Williamstown (Tech) Journal has an account of the death of Mrs. Sarah John on of that county, which was caused in a very singular manner. Only a few days before her death Mrs. Johnson, who was at the time in perfect health, went out into the yard for the purpose of separating a couple of chicken cocks which were engaged in a furious fight. She caught one of the cocks and in so doing was slightly wounded by its long, sharp spur or gaff. From this wound resulted lockjaw, which terminated in death. She was the wife of Mr. Claiborne Johnson who has for a long time been a sufferer from consumption. The shock produced upon the already enfeebled frame, by the sudden death of his wife was more than Mr. Johnson could bear. He commenced sinking at once, and two days after he too died.

Usually when the machinery of the mind runs hard from any cause the proper remedy is not books but something totally different. Reading is apt to continue in the faculties that are tired. What is demanded is an entire change of sphere, calling into play an entirely different set of faculties. Just here arises the necessity of amusement in its strict sense, as distinguished from mere physical recreation—something that shall muse away the mind from its wearying tasks.

The Democratic Change of Base

VALLANDIGHAM'S DEPARTURE

[From the Cleveland Herald.]

After minutely searching through eighteen resolutions with keen eye for salient points the Republican reader cannot fail to be struck with the remarkable similarity between many of the new principles of the Democratic party and the well established doctrines of the Republican party. On most of the views here set forth if they are adopted at their State Convention, the Democrats will find it difficult to get up an issue with the Republicans. The impression resulting from a perusal of the resolutions is, either that the Democrats propose 'stealing the livery of heaven to serve the devil in,' or, if honest in their 'new departure,' that the surest way to secure the success of their newly adopted principles, is to vote the Republican ticket.

A HOUSE DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

Vallandigham's move is an adroit one but it has its weak points. It is in conflict with the feelings wishes and hopes of the leading Democrats of at least fifteen of the States these fifteen States having one third of the electoral vote. It is equally in conflict with the life-long prejudices of a large portion of the party in a majority of the other States. Nevertheless, it is possible that this platform will be substantially affirmed in the next National Convention. It will however still lack the most important element of success and that is the ability to satisfy the live issue people that, once in power, the Democratic party would honestly and faithfully carry out the programme. To be successful the party must depend upon the support of Vallandighams, Voorhees, Blair and every rebel and Confederate politician in the country including the Ku Klux. Can a party thus constituted, thus led and officered command the confidence of the people in a promise to uphold reconstruction the civil and political equality of the blacks, and to execute the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution.

VALLANDIGHAM'S OMNIBUS

[From the Toledo Commercial.]

Mr. Vallandigham's new departure sets out with a declared determination to "agree to disagree" and since it does not make any difference how widely apart the views of those who stand upon his platform may be, of course everybody can join in this movement, and Vallandigham, of necessity, must be regarded as everybody's leader. In order to secure such leader, a Republican should be willing to stand upon almost any platform. The modern reformer is willing to yield his most cherished sentiments for the sake of making an arrangement whereby the people of this country may have it in their power to secure his services in some honorable and lucrative position. He is actually disposed to admit that we have had a war and that certain amendments have been made to the Constitution.

"THE IRRESISTIBLE MARCH OF EVENTS."

From the Missouri Republican (Dem.)

It is useless to disguise the manifest fact that the Democracy are not the Democracy of the recent past. The irresistible march of events and the philosophy of a new condition have compelled a change. As long as there seemed a possibility of maintaining the old order, that party made itself the champion of the old order, but even while it resisted the transformation, the transformation became complete, and the only question for Democrats to decide was whether they would recognize things as they are, or as they wanted them. Senator Morton's imputation made an instant and complete decision necessary, and that decision has been given. It is a proclamation that the Democracy sacrifice all desire for retaliation, all desire for punishment of usurpations acquiesced in by the people, and all design of restoring privileges to one that involves the withdrawal of rights from another. This is the plain language of the organs of Southern sentiment, and it is the language of all the leaders of Democratic opinion in the North and West. Even Mr. Vallandigham of Ohio recognizes the accomplished transformation, and in the Dayton platform endeavors to conform to it though he commits the folly of casting a suspicion on the sincerity of his declarations by excusing reconstruction legislation from the immunity which he accords to the Constitutional Amendments. The object of Mr. Vallandigham seems to have been to create an impression, and make himself the author and leader of a new Democratic policy.

BITTER PHYSIC.

From the Cincinnati Gazette.

Sometimes children are persuaded to take physic by telling them it will make them better but we never heard of their getting enthusiastic over the taking. The most of this platform is physic to the Democratic party—the amendments, negro suffrage, and the war debt. Yet Dr. Vallandigham tells them to be very enthusiastic at taking it. According to his notion, this is what the Democracy have been mourning for and longing after till now this has been a most nauseous dose to them, but now they find it joyous. This is passing strange. It is a sort of Mark Tapley, coming out jolly under the most unfriendly conditions.

VALLANDIGHAM A MICAWBER

From the Albany Evening Journal.

There has been nothing quite so fine as Mr. Vallandigham's new departure, since the illustrious Mr. Micawber discharged his pecuniary obligations by giving 'a bill of his head.' Indeed a closer resemblance exists between the two cases than would appear at the first blush. Mr. Vallandigham and his party are as bankrupt in character as Mr. Micawber was in purse. Like Mr. Micawber they are diligently waiting for something to turn up. And, again like that remarkable financier they treat a fresh promise as though it both wiped out the past and guaranteed the future. However self satisfied Mr. Micawber may have been over this celebrated financial transaction, it never deceived the rest of the world. And it will be precisely the same with this Peter Pinne Jeremy Diddler performance of the Ohio Copperhead.

The possum game proposed by the Democratic trimmers is thus innocently and fairly exposed by a Bourbon:

"We only demand that the party seeking our co operation in this great work of deliverance and liberty—as we honestly conceive it to be—shall not accept or adopt any of the usurpations and outrages that have been put upon the country by the common enemy. Discern justice the South, as we tried a light settled at the Democratic party [illegible] all abuses in the body politic of which it was born.—Savannah Republican.

POWER OF INDIA RUBBER TO DEADEN SOUND.—Chambers' Journal gives this illustration of the power of India rubber to deaden sound:

"We once visited a factory where some forty or fifty coppersmiths were at work in a shop above our heads, but what was remarkable scarcely a sound of their noisy hammering could be heard. On going up stairs we saw the explanation. Each leg of every bench rested on a cushion made of India rubber cuttings. This completely deadened the sound."

A robber named Thorpe, who chloroformed a London jeweler, and robbed him of $125 000 worth of diamonds, has been convicted and sentenced to eight years' hard labor. The prisoner in confessing his guilt said he robbed the wrong man and committed the act in consequence of his betting debts, and having read a novel detailing a like robbery.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Dispatch from Paris.

PARIS, June 5.—The result of the sittings of the French Assembly causes great excitement.

It is believed the exile of the Princes will be abrogated.

The telegraph will be restored by Saturday.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Army of the United States.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The army has finally been reduced to a peace footing in accordance with an act of Congress of July, 1870. Under this arrangement, the regular army consists of one General, one Lieut General, four Major Generals and three Brigadier Generals, with their usual complement of staff officers to the field. Besides these there will be an Adjutant in the field, Commissary and Surgeon General with their respective subordinates, a Corps of Engineers, Ordnance Department and Signal corps. The army consists of 10 regiments of artillery, 25 regiments of cavalry, 25 regiments of infantry, the Military Academy and a body of Indians scouts. The army will consist of 30 000 enlisted men apportioned as follows: Engineers, 300; Infantry 15 000; Cavalry 10 000; Artillery, 3 600, not commissioned staff 800; Ordnance Sergeants 30; Indian scouts and a company of bandmasters 1 00; employees of Quartermaster's Department, 2 500. The total amount of which rations which will have to be issued is 30 281. It is expected it will be necessary to re enlist 6 000 during the year to keep the army to its standard, and as the pay will be reduced to ante rebellion rates, this will be no easy task. Commissioned officers are tendering their resignations in such numbers that there is no longer a surplus and the Secretary of War has decided to accept no further resignations except for reasons recognized in war times as absolute. Among those who have thus far resigned are many who achieved reputations for hard service during the war.

Next Wednesday is now set for the departure of the Arctic expedition.

Senator Warner has concluded to accept the appointment of Governor of New Mexico.

EASTERN STATES.

Tornado in Illinois.

JACKSONVILLE (Ill.) June 5.—A most remarkable tornado occurred in Mason county near Mason City last Friday morning. The first indications were dark clouds gathering near the earth six miles west of the city. It assumed the shape of a huge boat, having three distinct smokestacks or columns extending upwards and connected with the clouds. This wonderful phenomenon was strongly charged with electricity, and from its columns of sparks were constantly issuing and making a noise and cracking similar to regular firing of thousands of muskets. Although the rotary motion of this fearful apparition was such as to tear up by the roots all vegetation that lay in its path, its progressive motion was not more than five miles an hour and was watched with fearful anxiety by the terror stricken inhabitants. Its path was from twenty to eighty feet in width and about three miles in length, and upon this space nothing was left alive. Grass was burnt to a crisp the green wheat and corn was burned yellow, and all vegetation presented an appearance of having been pulled up and dried in a two weeks' August sun.

Flood in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, June 5.—The flood is increasing. The water in up Canal street to Rampart street, with the exception of the natural ground on Canal street, which is not entirely covered. East of Claiborne street there is an unbroken sheet of water, covering an area of five or six square miles, including about 300 thickly inhabited squares. The sufferings of the inhabitants of this quarter especially among the poorer classes are very great. Thousands living in one story houses have moved out, while those living in two story houses have been compelled to move into the second stories. Back of Claiborne street on Canal street there is an average depth of two feet of water. The city authorities are doing all they can to alleviate the sufferings of the people. Every available boat and skiff has been brought into use and policemen are moving in almost every direction rendering such assistance as they can in saving those who are in danger and distributing provisions to the needy. The damage by this overflow cannot be estimated. Shrubberies and gardens have all been ruined, houses damaged and property depreciated. The overflow is directly from the lakes. On the Gentilly road quarter it has caused a heavy loss in the destruction of many fine market gardens. The Milneburg and Pontchartrain railroad, raised from Gentilly station is still overflowed. The water in the lake is receding slowly. Trains come through from Mobile on the Chattanooga railroad, and passengers report about four miles of the road under water. Passengers over the Jackson railroad who came in this morning report that the road is under water for seven miles north of Pass Manchac.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO June 5.—Over eighty tourists have been ticketed to the Yosemite from this city to day and many who intend going there are holding back for the rush to subside preferring to be less crowded on the way, even at the expense of losing a part of the beauty of the fall, which will soon commence to subside in volume.

Senator Colo and family left Washington for San Francisco to day.

Judge Stanley in the test case of the city and county of San Francisco vs. Jabez Howe et al., to day rendered a decision declaring the act authorizing the State Harbor Commissioners to collect tonnage dues from vessels entering the port of San Francisco unconstitutional and an infringement on the right of Congress to regulate commerce.

The funeral of Giacomo Campi killed by a fall at Yosemite last week, took place this afternoon under the auspices of the Odd Fellows' and Italian Benevolent Society, and was very largely attended.

The residence of Mr. Rul feon on Ninth street near Market, was set fire (the third time) by incendiaries to day noon and partially destroyed. The family were not at home at the time.

This has been the warmest day of the season.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Congressman Beck of New York was this evening presented with a magnificent case at the Grand Hotel by a party of his old friends and schoolmates.

The steamer City of Melbourne from New Zealand and Australia, now fully due is not yet telegraphed.

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—But a very few loose tickets remain on hand at the Pioneer lottery office this evening, all being sold or in the hands of agents. It is now a settled fact that the drawing will take place on the 12th.

To day has been the hottest of the season, thermometer reaching 95° in the shade.

Dispatch from Oroville.

OROVILLE June 5.—Yesterday afternoon, six of the party engaged in hunting Austin George, arrived in town reporting that he has escaped from Bloomer Hill. All were at first in great excitement, but vigilance became necessary lest he should cross the river and find a hiding place in town. All the ferries, bridges and small boats are watched. Every precaution is taken to arrest him should he attempt crossing. About 10 P. M. two men watching heard a man crossing Baldwell bar bridge which spans Feather river nine miles above here. He was commanded to halt and proved to be the murderer surrendering his rifle. He was marched to the house of Mr. J. S. Bendle. Arriving at the house he gave up the knife but as they were about binding him he drew a revolver placed it to his head and pulled the trigger, but catching in his shirt it missed fire. Mr. Bendle caught the weapon from him when he broke away and ran for his life. Mr. Bendle fired, hitting him three times twice in the back and the last shot through the lung killing him instantly. His body was then recovered, and from here to the cabin at the scene of the murder. A large crowd assembled to receive the body and upon its arrival there became greatly excited. Those dressed them advising moderation. Accounts of Bendle and McBride who were in were then given. A proposition was made to burn the body, all agreeing a cabin was the proper and a large pile made of it in an open field. The body placed upon it a can of oil thrown over the whole and the pyre set on fire, and amid the shouting of excited people it was consumed.

Yellow Fever in Buenos Ayres

The terrible fatality of the yellow fever now raging in Buenos Ayres has probably never been paralleled. In a city of 200 000 inhabitants no less than 30 000 have died. A report states that the ravages of the disease are owing largely to the filthy condition of the place. We quote from the report:

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1871.

The Fathers Invoked.

"Do you imagine," writes John Quincy Adams in a recent letter, "that Thomas Jefferson, do you think that James Madison, would say that their old organic frame (the Constitution of the United States) permits a protective tariff?"

It cannot be guessed what these men would say on this subject at this day, were they now living and professing the "principles" of the Democratic party; for those "principles" are in continual flux,—forever changing, so that the disciple who learned last year what he was expected to believe knows not what to believe now, and knows still less what his "principles" are to be a twelvemonth hence. But though we cannot imagine what Jefferson and Madison would say on the subject of a protective tariff at this time were they still actors on this scene and forced to keep up with the mutations of the Democratic party, we happily know what views they held on the subject when living. They have left their opinions on record, and this record shows that they were decided in the belief that the "old organic frame" permitted a protective tariff. Not only this, but they held it was both wise and necessary to adopt and maintain the protective system.

Is proof of this desired? Mr. Jefferson in his message to Congress of December 15, 1802, thus enumerates the proper objects of our Government:

To cultivate peace and maintain commerce and navigation in all their lawful enterprises; to foster our fisheries as nurseries of navigation; to protect the manufactures adopted to our circumstances; to preserve the faith of the nation by an exact discharge of its debts and contracts; * * * these, fellow citizens, are the landmarks by which we are to guide ourselves in all our proceedings.

Again, in 1806, anticipating a surplus revenue, he said:

To what other objects shall these surpluses be appropriated, and the whole surplus of impost after the entire discharge of the public debt? Shall we suppress the impost, and give that advantage to foreign over domestic manufactures?

He proceeded to say that he thought the impost on a few articles might be suppressed, but that with regard to the great mass of them the "patriotism" of the people would "prefer its continuance and application to the great purposes of public education, roads, rivers, canals, and such other objects of public improvement as it may be thought proper to add to the constitutional enumeration of Federal powers." In his last annual message he said:

The augmentation of foreign commerce produced by the dangers of belligerent powers and the necessities and sacrifices of our citizens are subjects of just concern. The situation into which we have been forced has impelled us beyond the limits of our industry and capital to attempt manufactures and improvements. The extent of this conversion is daily increasing, and little inducement remains that the establishments formed and forming will, under the auspices of cheaper materials and of protecting duties and patriotism, become permanent.

So it has it reasonably clear from this, that Mr. Jefferson thought the "old organic frame" would "permit protective tariff." Madison was much the same way of thinking. He constantly urged the wisdom and necessity of protection. Jackson urged the same policy and cited the authority of Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe in support of it. And John Quincy Adams, grandfather of the present Democratic leader of that name, in his message to Congress in 1825 said:

Sensible as the duty on the foreign shall operate in favor of a country on the domestic article,—while the planter, the merchant and the shepherd shall be found thriving in their occupations under the duties imposed for the protection of domestic manufactures, they will not denounce as violations of the Constitution the deliberate acts of Congress to shield from the wrongs of foreign laws the native industry of the United States.

The President who delivered these words could scarcely have supposed that the policy he was advocating would be denounced as unconstitutional by his own descendants. But it should be remembered that the grandson who thus attempts to impeach his ancestor and to show that the ancestor, (who was one of the most illustrious men of his time), knew nothing about the Constitution, is one of those modern changelings called "Democrats," who have no principles. This explains it all.

What a Position!

Democrats tell us in their "new departure" that from that the recent amendments to the Constitution must not be "held to have altered or modified the original theory of the character of the Federal Government;" and the Herald in accepting the change of principles announced by its party leaders re-echoes the same declaration. Just see how these changelings stultify themselves. They have been preaching for ten years that the "Radicals" were changing the whole character of the Government; they declared up to last week that the amendments to the Constitution had wholly destroyed the old fabric and created a totally different kind of Government from that given us by the fathers. It was their chief argument against the amendments that they would change the nature and theory of the Government in toto. Yet now they profess to accept the amendments with the declaration that they have not altered or modified the theory or character of the Government in any respect whatever! A party of this sort is surely a party eminently qualified to obtain the confidence of the country! It comes before the country with such delightful logic, and proclaims its enthusiastic acceptance of villainously accomplished and iniquitous results! What a position!

John Quincy Adams is one of the "advanced Democrats" who are always leaning the laggards of the party. He has recently published another letter in which he urges Democrats, substantially, to cut loose from old ideas and step forward at once and with cheerful alacrity upon Republican ground. He deplores "the halting, hesitating step with which the Democracy is sneaking up to its inevitable position," and sneers at those Democrats who "denounce a measure (equal suffrage) as too Democratic for Democrats, only because the enfranchised are black." Some weeks ago we set the views of a statesman of Long Tom, as expressed through the Oregon City Enterprise, in contrast with some of the utterances of the leading Democrats of Massachusetts. It will now be in order to hear from Long Tom again, especially since the Ohio Democrats have accepted the situation.

The N. Y. World strongly sustains the new Treaty, and says: "We scorn to treat it as a party question; but even in a party view we should be compelled to advocate its acceptance. It is a just treaty, and is so esteemed by the wiser part of the public, a cavilling partisan opposition would react against us." This is sound political wisdom, and coming from a leading organ of its own party, we commend it to the "cavilling" Oregon Herald.

The Senate and the Correspondents.

The Senate, after two weeks' inquiry as to how the treaty of Washington came to be divulged, gave the matter up and released from custody the correspondents of the New York Tribune, who had obtained a copy and published it. Senator Corbett opposed the proceeding in the Senate. He said:

I shall support the substitute offered by the Senator from New York, and for the reason that we in the majority of this Senate, who are responsible for the action and the organization of the Senate, have, in the most lax manner, allowed our secret proceedings to be published from time to time, and have made no examination into the subject. We have met in the most confidential manner, and yet the majority of this Senate have allowed our proceedings when so assembled to be published, without inquiry, without examination. The proceedings of such meeting could only have been communicated by Senators themselves.

If Senators of our own party will allow the proceedings of our own secret meetings or caucuses to be published in this way, and will make no examination into how it was done, and make no attempt to prevent it; if they will not commence there at the root of this evil, I am in favor of stopping this present proceeding in the Senate. If we will not commence an inquiry into this evil in a place where we can stop it, if we will allow Senators themselves to communicate our own votes and proceedings in secret caucus, how can we undertake to stop communications in the Senate where there are more than our own party present, and where the officers of the Senate are also assembled?

It seems to me that we ourselves as a party organization are responsible for these things in a great measure. Every Senator here knows that we have seldom met together in caucus without the proceedings of that caucus and the votes of that caucus being published the next day in every newspaper in this city, and perhaps in every newspaper in all the large cities of the country. If we allow this, how are we to put a stop to the publication of these communications? In this case it must be remembered that the Secretary of State may be said to have encouraged the publication of this treaty, by giving to the public a synopsis, indeed, the great bulk of the treaty, before it was transmitted to the Senate. Knowing the desire of the State Department and of the Government to have this treaty published, in order that the feeling of the community with regard to it might be ascertained, these members of the press obtained a copy of it, no doubt under the belief that it would be satisfactory to the Government that it should go before the people. If that was not intended, why should a synopsis of the treaty have been furnished?

For these reasons, until we take some steps to put a stop to the publication of the proceedings, I am opposed to investigating such publications as this, and hence I shall support the substitute.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican has a favorable notice of the Wallamet Valley. It says:

That finest section of Oregon, the Wallamet valley, has an area of 5,000 square miles, or a little more than all of Connecticut. Yet its population is but 61,000, as against half a million in Connecticut. The Wallamet valley can more easily support a million of inhabitants than Connecticut can its half million. Its agricultural capacities are as fine as those of any equal area of land in the world, while abundant streams come out of the mountains on each side, furnishing rich facilities for manufacturing. Indeed, climate, soil, timber, water, access to market, all the elements to population and wealth considered, there is no finer 5,000 square miles lying all together in the whole world.

Such notices as this in such a paper as the Republican cannot but be highly advantageous to Oregon. The editor of that paper has twice visited our State and speaks whereof he knows.

We are told that only the Democratic party can "pacify" the South; therefore that party should be raised to power. This is equivalent to saying that the South can be "pacified" only by permitting it to dictate to and govern the country, as it did before the war. Of course if the Democratic party gets power the South will control the party. Northern Democrats will never feel easy and comfortable till they have their Southern masters to look up to, as in ante-war times. They want now to set the ex-rebels up in their "legitimate" business of governing the country. So docile are the Northern Democracy that they would again raise their coat-tails and invite their Southern brethren to kick, and take it all in the best of feeling, simply to "pacify" the South.

A dispatch states that the Emperor of Germany has decided the San Juan controversy in favor of the United States. We judge this report is premature, as it is doubtful whether the case has yet been laid in an official way before him. But we believe his decision will be in our favor simply because the facts are on our side.

We look for something of a row in the Democratic camp in this State since the Herald has proclaimed its acceptance of those "worst villainies of Radicalism," the constitutional amendments and negro suffrage, and pledged itself never to disturb them. It will soon hear thunders of disapprobation from Santiam Forks and Long Tom.

A New Kind of Compass.—At a late sitting of the French Academy of Science, says the Galignani, a curious communication was received from M. Zaliwski, which, if it were borne out, would be invaluable to navigation. He states that if a hollow cylinder, made of thin materials, open at the top and provided with a sharp-edged bottom, be properly ballasted and then put into a tub or other vessel filled with water, it will soon move in a never varying direction from west to east. The round tin boxes in which concentrated milk is preserved, will do perfectly for the experiment, which will become more and more perceptible the oftener the same cylinder is made to do duty in that way. If this be true and practicably applicable on board of ship, the advantage to be derived from it will be immense, especially in the case of iron-built vessels, which, it is well known, occasion very considerable deviations of the needle. Indeed, tables of corrections have to be made out for each craft of the kind by experiment, and mistakes which may cause shipwreck are often the consequence of miscalculation in this respect. Now, if by M. Zaliwski's discovery the direction from west to east can always be ascertained, the bearings of the needle may be corrected with much greater certainty.

Threats and Counters.—The people of Chicago, Peoria and other northern cities of Illinois are making an earnest effort to have the State capital removed from Springfield. Chicago at least pretends not to care about securing it for herself, but is anxious that it shall be taken away from Springfield. But Springfield counters these threats of her northern rivals by appealing to the pride of "Egypt," and "Egypt" responds with defiance, telling the frozen north that if the capital is taken further from them, they will move for a division of the State and carry it, too. This is the last stage of the question. The Chicago papers laugh at the Egyptians, and declare the division proposition a humbug.

There is a queer philosopher in Paris, a leveller, who has published a pamphlet, suggesting that all arbitrary rules of orthography be abolished by official decree as savoring of aristocracy and despotism. There can be no true, broad, and general freedom, argues the pamphleteer, where the correct use of the alphabet prevails. To be perfectly free one must be permitted to spell as he chooses. In the meantime, and simultaneously with this singular suggestion, the French Academy is gravely discussing the propriety of dispensing with the second "h" in the word "hypotheneuse."

OREGON.

Mines on the coast near Randolph, in Coos county, are yielding well this spring.

The Umpqua river is higher than ever before known at this season of the year. Melting snows.

Southern Oregon papers say there is plenty of room for new comers in their part of the State, and plenty to do.

Goose Lake valley is attracting many settlers. A flour mill has already been erected. Two schools are in operation.

The steamer Pelican on her last trip from San Francisco to the Umpqua river, brought about 30 settlers who remain in Douglas county.

A man named J. F. Higginson has been arrested in Douglas county for an attempt to commit a rape on a Mrs. Jordan. He beat her severely, but she repelled him, and laid a complaint before the magistrate who placed Higginson under bonds to appear at the next term of Court.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Susan B. Anthony is on her way to California from the East.

Senator Casserly is expected to arrive in San Francisco on the 8th.

At the Woman's Suffrage Convention in Boston, last week, Margaret Lucas, of England, sister of John Bright, gave a history of the movement in England, where she says woman suffrage is only a question of time. Senator Wilson made a brief speech fully indorsing the movement.

The Washington Patriot says that ex-Senator Williams will engage in prosecuting British claims before the Commission to be established for that purpose. This is absurd.

The popularity of Newton Booth in the interior counties of California is so great that it is believed that he will have almost a solid and united delegation from those counties to the Republican State Convention, in favor of his nomination for Governor.

One of the latest uses of paper is to employ it for the manufacture of railroad car wheels. The paper is cut into discs the diameter of the wheel, less the thickness of the tire, and subjected to a pressure of one and a half tons to the square inch, and then secured by iron flanges held by bolts passing through them and the paper. The wheel then receives a steel or iron flanged tire, and is complete.

A clergyman asked some children "Why do we say in the Lord's prayer, 'Our Father who art in Heaven,' since God is everywhere?" He saw a little drummer boy who looked as if he could give an answer, and turned to him for it: "Well, little soldier, what do you say?", "Because it's headquarters."

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1871.

CITY.

...AND TOWN YARNS.—We announced ...some time ago the dissolution of this society, in consequence of the death or departure of the ...greater portion of its members. A committee was, however, appointed, to settle up the affairs ...of the society, and a resolution adopted directing ...that the funds remaining, after paying all liabilities, be distributed among the benevolent ...institutions of the city. The committee has ...completed its work—all debts have been paid, ...and the balance distributed according to ...the resolution above mentioned. Under this distribution, the Hebrew Benevolent Association ...received $240; the German Emigrant Aid Association, $240; the Independent German School Association, $63; and the Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent Society, $53; total, distributed, $326.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CARROLTON.—We met yesterday with Mr. Hutchinson from Carrolton, ...situated just below Kalama, and we learned from him that the California Company, ...which has heretofore been mentioned as having ...a mill up there, is about to commence ...some very important improvements. They are ...going to build a wharf for deep draught vessels, ...running out three hundred feet from line. The man who is ...superintending the pile-driving for the wharf will ...leave from this city to-day, and the work is to ...commence at once. Besides this improvement, the Company intend to erect warehouses for ...storing and a grain elevator, to facilitate the load...ing of vessels with grain in bulk. A town plat ...has also been laid out, but as it does not suit the ...company they are going to have it resurveyed.

...JUDICIARY VS. THE JUDICIARY.—A conflict ...of a very grave character has arisen between the ...reporter for this paper and the Circuit Judge. ...The latter appointed yesterday (Monday) for ...the opening of the Circuit Court, but Judge ...Upton persists in following the instructions of the ...statute which appoints next Monday. As the re...porter can't scatter the Court together without ...the aid of the Court, he may have to yield to ...the majesty of the law and let the Court have its ...way this time; but it is to be understood ...that next time the reporter appoints a day for the ...Court, the Court will meet—unless prevented by Providence or otherwise.

...OLD ONE.—Mr. Blumauer has shown us a ...copy of the New York Morning Post of Nov. 7, ...1783—nearly two years old. It is principally ...valuable because of containing the ...address of General Washington to the ...United States, dated Nov. 2, 1783. ...However, the quaint typography of that ...day, the dignified, stilted style of expression ...so much affected by the literary ...men of an age that has become, by ...events rather than time, venerable.

...WEATHER.—The inevitable grumbler at the ...same is again—this time from a new ...point of the meteorological compass. ...He was taking "long drinks" with ice ...in them, and growling at the prospect ...of continued drouth and a failure of the ...crops; growling at the heat; growling at the ...cold; growling at the noise of his own growling. ...No weather grumbler can never be suited.

...STEAMER "CLARA LIGHT."—This vessel ...arrived Saturday, brought 315 tons ...of coal to Hutchinson, Kohl & Co., valued ...at $945; furniture to A. S. Mercer, valued ...at $200, and lumber to J. M. Strowbridge, valued ...at $—. It is understood that the schooner will ...not run in the trade, having entered into ...contract to supply coal to the opposition ...company.

...ACCIDENT.—A very serious accident occurred to Mr. McKee, engineer of the ...steamer ——, yesterday afternoon. When the ...boat was about eight miles above Vancouver, one of his arms caught in the machinery, ...which was so badly crushed and torn that ...it was necessary to amputate it. Dr. Bills, ...of Portland, performed the operation last evening.

...CONCERT TO BE REPEATED.—We hear that the ...members of the Philharmonic Society to-morrow ...will ask for the purpose of arranging to give another ...concert on Friday evening, June 16th. The ...success that the late concert repeated seems to ...be assured, and the Society is disposed to ...accede to the request, though a change of pro...gramme in part or the whole, will be adopted.

...GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCH MEETING.—...There will be held this evening at the Luther ...Church in this city, of the members of the ...Church Society, to take into consideration ...the offer of Dr. Laryea to convey grounds in ...Portland upon which to build a church. ...Meeting at half-past seven o'clock.

...A MISTAKE.—It was all a mistake about ...Beekman street in East Portland having ...been sold Saturday to Hart & Co. James ...Terwilliger the successful bidder. Hart & Co. ...have, however, a number of grading contracts in ...the city besides Holladay avenue.

...PHOTOGRAPH.—We have received a photograph of ...the Express Train, along with a report of its ...trip to Ogden. The picture is at the disposal of the proprietors of the East Portland Industrial Exhibition for their gallery of noted and notorious things.

...STREET EXTENSION.—The roof of the Globe ...Hotel, North Portland, has been torn off to ...make room for another story, the old building ...having become inadequate to the demand for room. The ...new building (the third) will be topped off with ...a cupola.

...SOCIETY MEETING.—The Ladies' Relief ...Society will meet at the usual place to-day (Tuesday) ...at 3 o'clock. Any lady in town wishing ...to join the Society, will please apply for information ...at this Society, as one has been left in their ...charge.

...FRONT STREET.—If something be not ...done for the roadway of North Front Street, ...built next to impassable. The roadway ...is broken up, and the planks are badly broken, making ...the crossings serious alike to horses and vehicles.

...PARADE GROUND.—The Plaza ground has lately been ...cleaned and fixed up, so that it looks considerably ...more like what it has been its wont. For all ...which the city is indebted to the city prisoners who ...did the principal part of the improvement.

...HEADQUARTERS REMOVED.—The headquarters of the ...Oregon & Pacific Railroad Company was ...removed yesterday from this city to Kalama. ...The offices at the latter place are said to be very ...well and comfortably fitted up.

...PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—A special meeting of ...the Society and others who participated in the late ...concert will be held at the Society's Hall on next ...Tuesday evening. A general attendance is ...urgently requested.

...HIGH FLOOD.—The river, for the last four or ...five days, has risen very slowly—not more than ...three inches. At this rate, the flood is not ...likely to become very troublesome.

...RAILROADS.—The Northern Pacific Railroad ...Company has contracted with the Oregon Iron ...Works for doing large jobs of bolts and anchor ...plates for railroad bridges.

...U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—There was no business ...transacted in this court yesterday, except to ...adjourn till Monday, June 12th.

AMUSEMENTS.

...CIRCUS.—The New York Circus will arrive to-...morrow afternoon from the Dalles and will give ...two performances only, to-morrow evening. As ...this will be the last chance of the season to wit...ness the performances of the "heroes of the ring," ...we suppose the pavilion will be full.

...FIGURE SKATING.—To-night the skaters at the ...rink will be regaled with music, and the beauty ...and chivalry and the fashion and all that, ...of the city, will be there, of course.

What is the Use of a Democrat's Party.

[From the New York Times.]

John Quincy Adams, the ornamental candidate of the Massachusetts Democracy for Governor, and C. L. Vallandigham, the leader of the Ohio Democracy, have both been trying their hands at constructing a platform for the Democratic party of the country—the first in a letter to a fellow Democrat in Missouri, and the last in a series of resolutions submitted to an Ohio Convention. It is worthy of note that both these shining lights of the new Democratic faith arrive at substantially the same conclusions, and erect substantially the same platform; but the most striking thing about it is that their new platform amounts to a virtual surrender of the Democratic party into the hands of the Republicans. In erecting such a platform, these Democratic architects have evidently "builded better than they knew," and if it is to be adopted, their party might as well disperse into thin air. Listen to Mr. Adams:

"The Constitution was struck down by the assault upon Sumter, as all constitutions must necessarily fall before the face of the supreme arbitrament of war. It can never be lifted up while war is flagrant. The people will never resign the attitude of hostile vigilance, which is the real significance of the present Administration, until they know that no one of their war trophies is longer disputed. Then they will gladly resume the habits which they love and the good nature which they repress. What, then, is the meaning of the grotesque contortions of those who profess a fondness for camels and yet strain so fantastically at the gnat? For the essence of all Democracy is equality—nothing but the equality of all men before the law. Equal and exact justice to every man, and each to share in the government of all. That is the only genuine Democratic doctrine. But who dares face an intelligent people with that testimony upon his lips, and denounce a measure which is too Democratic for Democrats only because the enfranchised are black?"

Surely no Republican need ask for sounder doctrine than that. Both Vallandigham and Adams lay down, as the first plank in their new platform, that the Democratic party shall "accept the situation" and abide in good faith by the results of the war—all the amendments to the Constitution included. This is all that the Republicans ask, and when this is done there will be really no important points of difference between the two parties, so far as principles or measures are concerned. Almost the only ground of attack which the Democratic party has to-day against their opponents, arises out of measures that have been rendered necessary by the refusal of that party to accept in good faith the issues settled by the war. As Mr. Adams truly says: "The people (not the Republican party) will never resign the attitude of hostile vigilance, which is the real significance of the present Administration, until they know that no one of their war trophies is longer disputed." When the Democratic party shall convince the people that it has no longer any design to dispute these trophies, the people may consent to accept the new platform, though it is exceedingly doubtful whether they will deem it necessary to drop the name of Republicans and assume that of Democrats merely to accommodate those eleventh-hour converts.

PRETENDERS TO THE FRENCH THRONE.—The Duc d'Aumale and Prince de Joinville are now residing in the Department de l'Orne, not far from Versailles, and lodged in the chateau of the Duc d'Audiffret-Pasquier. There these Princes await the decision of the Assembly upon their election, a decision which has not yet been rendered. Yet their friends urge upon these Princes the necessity of going away, saying, with truth, that their presence here can only injure their cause. But Monsieur d'Aumale will not go away. By some fortunate turn of the wheel it might happen that the Assembly should call for an Orleans, and Monsieur the Duc d'Aumale, wishes to be on hand to take the inside track against his nephew, the Count de Paris. Meantime, the presence of the Duc has become doubly embarrassing, for all the assassins and would-be regicides in Europe seem to be hurrying to the spot, ambitions of the glory of murdering the Duc. It requires a triple force of police to arrest all the suspicious characters lurking about the chateau, with an arsenal of small arms upon them. A round dozen have already been arrested, and once more efforts are being made to get the Duc to go further away.—Paris Cor. N. Y. Times.

MOUNT SINAI.—At a recent meeting held in Cambridge, England, on behalf of the Palestine Fund, it was stated by Captain H. S. Palmer, of the Royal Engineers, employed in the survey of the Holy Land, that Mount Sinai must be identified with the mountain now called Gebel Musa. At this place a fine cliff fronts an extensive plain, and, it is asserted, in every particular corresponds to the requirements of the sacred narrative. The tradition of the country, Capt. Palmer stated, points to a still higher peak of Gebel Musa, which is hidden from the plain, as the place where the stone tables of the law were delivered to Moses, and the cliff mentioned above is believed to be the spot where the law was proclaimed to the people assembled in the plain below. The scientific survey now prosecuting in Palestine will settle many questions that have long been in dispute in reference to the precise locality of the places mentioned in Scripture. The claims of Gebel Musa have been argued against by Dr. Edward Robinson and travelers on the ground that no large plain containing the Israelites existed in its neighborhood; but these views have been refuted by the present survey. Gebel Musa is the Mount Sinai, according to tradition, and upon it are built a Christian church and a Mohammedan mosque.

It is now proposed to introduce the system of narrow-guage tracks for street railways in small cities, where tracks of the ordinary width would not pay. It is suggested that a track of only two feet wide, or even narrower, with light rails and light one-horse cars, with a driver who will also act as conductor, may pay where two-horse cars could not be supported. It is calculated that by this plan the track will cost originally only about one-half as much as the ordinary guage, that it will save two-thirds of the expense of paving and repairing, and that it will dispense with the pay of conductors. It will require only one-half the number of horses, and consequently only one-half the amount of stable room and feed, while the original cost of the cars will be much less. The advocates of the new system, with a good show of reason, claim other advantages for the narrow track, which it is said is about to be introduced as an experiment in Troy, New York.

TO REMOVE FOUL AIR FROM WELLS.—It is well known that many accidents occur to persons going down into wells to clean them, owing to the noxious gas in such places. To remove the gas before descent is made into any well, a quantity of burned but unslacked lime should be thrown down. This, when it comes in contact with whatever water is below, sets free a great quantity of heat in the water and lime, which rushes upward carrying all the deleterious gas with it; after which, the descent may be made with safety. The lime also absorbs carbonic acid in the well. Always lower a light before descending, if it is extinguished, there is still danger of suffocation.

THE SEAL FISHERIES.—The indications now are that half a million of seals, valued at $1,500,000, will be brought into New York alone this season from Newfoundland. Several steamers have already come in, the Panther bringing 20,000, the Wolf 13,000, the Eagle 23,000 on her first trip and 10,000 on her second. Considering the extent and value of her cod-fishing interests, Newfoundland would be a desirable acquisition to the Dominion, and the anxiety of the Canadians to consummate the confederation scheme is not to be wondered at.

ABOUT GARTERS.—There are few who have any idea of the magnitude of the garter business, and fewer still who have any conception of the high prices some of the fancy articles in this line command. According to a Boston paper, the factory at Hampton, Mass., has a capital of $300,000, and produces about two million pairs per annum. The ranging price of garters is eighty-five cents. The highest cost being at $15. We have the same authority that the last novelty in the line of ladies' garters are broad velvet bands, heavily fringed and silver mounted.

A STRANGE STORY.—The New York Tribune tells the following, on the authority of "a printed letter from London:"

"About ten years ago a young American from New York, Walter Hastings by name, dining in London in company with Lord C——, expressed the opinion that solitary confinement in a dark cell was not so dreadful a punishment as had been represented. His Lordship, so goes the tale, offered Hastings £10,000 if he would undergo entire seclusion for ten years. The proposition being agreed to, a cell was fitted up in Lord C——'s town house. It was from twelve to fifteen feet square. The prisoner was to be allowed candles, a few books, writing materials, plain food—the latter to be served by a man who was not to be seen. In this way Hastings has been living for a decade of years, his term expiring about the first of the present month. He is now released and has received, we suppose, his hard earned money. He emerges from his dungeon in rather a dilapidated condition, appearing though only thirty-five, like a man sixty years of age, his frame stooping and his steps tottering, his face sallow, his hair and beard white, his voice tremulous and his speech hesitating. He is coming directly to America, and we should not wonder if Mr. Barnum knew something about him."

Although the Mont Cenis tunnel has been reported completed, it is not yet thrown open for traffic, and will probably not be finally finished until June next, and then inaugurated in the following month. By obtaining a pass, however, from one of the chief engineers in charge of the work, tourists are permitted to pass through; the distance from Bardonneche to the point of junction of the two galleries being accomplished in less than fifteen minutes, by means of the train that is employed in removing the masses of rock and earth that have been excavated. In the center of the tunnel there yet remains about a hundred yards to be dug out to the full width, and here blasting operations are still going on for that purpose. On both sides of this point the double line has been completed, and it only remains to replace the temporary working rails with permanent ones to allow trains to pass through regularly, and thus effect the grand junction, in mercantile and social respects, between Italy and France.

"The last word" is the most dangerous of infernal machines. Husband and wife should no more strive to get it that they would struggle to get possession of a lighted bombshell.

S. T. 1860. X, however, like the initials on the old Roman banners has a meaning. It represents Saint Croix—St. being the conventional equivalent of Saint, and 1 8 6 0 standing for the letters O-R-O-I, and so forming with the concluding X, the word Croix. By placing the trademark and the name of the island in juxtaposition, with the figures over the letters they are intended to denote, the explanation will be understood:

S. T. 1860. X
S T CROI X

A Pitiful Condition.

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease, they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure to their more robust and energetic fellow beings.

In nine cases out of ten this state of inactivity and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to shut it forward into a more profitable condition than ever, (as at assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time in admiring temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influences. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

Encounter with Indians in Montana.

DEATH OF WHITE MAN KILLED AND ANOTHER WOUNDED AND TEN INDIANS KILLED

A correspondent of the Helena Herald writes from Musselshell, May 10 as follows

On the 12th ult three men named Jos Lee Drew Denton and Chas Williams left here for the upper river carrying a mail for the Benton post-office When ten miles above Fort Hawley they saw indications of Indians, and entered the thick willows there to discuss the best course to pursue They had but just concluded to remain under cover until dark when they were suddenly attacked by a body of Teton Sioux Indians about forty five in number, who advanced as skirmishers howling and firing The men were armed with Spencer and Winchester rifles, and replied so promptly and repeatedly as to repulse them They then retreated through the willows to a new position and awaited the Indians second attack, which was made in the course of half an hour in which Lee was killed and Williams shot through the left arm, though not disabled. Another bullet struck his cartridge sack, discharging several of the cartridges Denton was nearly knocked down by a bullet in the breast his life being saved by the mail message and plug of tobacco both of which were perforated by the missel Their response to this second attack was even more impressive than the first and the Indians fell back and set up their war cry and mourning for their lead and wounded This lasted an hour, the hills reverberating with their howls and lamentations, which time, our heroes now reduced to two and obliged to leave their old companion, improved by winding their way through the high brush up the river point to a large fallen tree which afforded them protection Here they received the third attack, in which the Indians made a desperate effort to dislodge them and in which they were signally repulsed

Then followed another howling and mourning which lasted till dark when they seemingly disappeared Denton and Williams unanimously moved up towards the river, and after a hard struggle put a log in the water and straddling it with their gun butts as pad dles made their way across At midnight they found themselves opposite Moss s wood yard, and after the exchange of the usual river signals, were boated over Ten days after, when it was deemed safer and their party had increased to sufficient strength they visited the battle ground Mr Lee had been scalped but the savage who had taken his was shot a short distance from him After burying him the field was inspected, and besides five corpses many signs existed in other places where in their hurry they had removed dead or mortally wounded ones of their party All the evidences induce us to believe that at least ten of the savages were killed and double that number wounded They were armed chiefly with muzzle loaders, no arrows having been used in the conflict. They undoubtedly belong to the Teton band of Sioux who reported six hundred lodges strong, (including Cat Head and other renegades,) and are now very hostile—even including in their vengeance any Sioux who trade with the whites

The Reward of Order

From the Pittsburg Commercial

Costly luxury Disorder is an amusement Whippings, maimings murderings do not yield desirable dividends to the States in which they occur Frolics of the Ku Klux Klan have cost the South millions of dollars all Laws of those States were futile and their citizens could rely upon the protection in their rights of property, person and liberty which they would receive even themselves For in stance ago the State of Texas began to work on her own account to organize the gangs of lawless desperadoes which infested it and disturbed the public peace At the beginning of last July the General of the State reported that nearly one hundred and eight counties there were a thousand seven hundred and ninety criminals evading arrest, of whom one hundred and two were murderers, and one hundred and thirteen guilty of assault with intent to kill A special mounted police force of two hundred men was at that time employed for the purpose of hunting down outlaws and bringing them to justice At the close of the year nearly a thousand criminals had been arrested and brought to trial, and the work has since been pushed with an equal degree of vigor The result is that the State is now perfectly secure General feeling of security, while confidence capital labor and enterprise are pouring into the country from all quarters Towns and cities are being constructed with great rapidity, agriculture, trade and manufactures are flourishing, new cities are springing up on every side new industries are established, new resources discovered Churches are erected, school houses are increasing and the general wealth of society is rapidly increasing, taxation is made easy for all and the welfare of the whole people greatly enhanced These encouraging results are very largely due to the sensible action of the State in getting rid of its leagued disturbers and insurgents Prosperity follows in the train of peace, just as surely as ruin is the wake of war It is true that a large number of advantages over other parts of the South, but there is no reason why they should not also develop their latent resources and catch the same impetus which are speeding Texas forward Only let them enforce the laws with a firm hand, build school houses and educate the people, put an end to burning them respect labor and pay it wages and secure their people in the enjoyment of civil political and social rights and quit their everlasting whining over the irreparable past—and their paths, too will be smiling and inviting before them.

Cromwell and the Intercepted Letter

From Belgravia

It was the Blue Boar Inn No 270 Holborn said to have occurred the event which decided Cromwell to finally break with that faithless and utterly unreliable King, Charles I Ireland and Cromwell having intercepted a letter from Henrietta Maria, then in France reproaching her husband, whom she ruled, with having made unworthy concessions, knew that the King s answer would tell everything and disclose his whole policy It was therefore sewn up in the skirt of a saddle, and the bearer of it was to come, carrying this saddle upon his head,, to the Blue Boar in Holborn, at 10 o clock on a certain night to take horse for Dover The messenger himself would not know the treasure the saddle contained, for those were ticklish times Cromwell and Ireton, at Windsor at the time were prompt men of action They at once resolved to dress as troopers and with one faithful Ironside to go to the inn, placing them man sentinel at the wicket They then shouted for cans of beer and sat drinking in a stall till news came that the man had arrived, and was leading out his saddle horse They instantly drew their swords, and went up to him, telling him they were ordered to search all who went in or out of that inn but as he looked like an honest man they would only search his saddle and then dismiss him They upon this ungirt the saddle and carrying it into the stall where they had been drinking ripped open the skirt and found the fatal letter It contained the King s declaration that he would keep no faith with the rogues, who in due time s instead of a silken garter should be fitted with a hempen cord Cromwell frowned he was a man of truth that was enough No more parley with the King but the sword of the Lord and of Gideon to be drawn and never resheathed They delivered the saddle again to the innocent man told him he was an honest fellow and bade him go about his business so off he rode to Dover, innocent of all foul play Lord Orrery tells this story and Lord Orford, according to Richardsoniana, assured Lord Bolingbroke that he had read that very letter and even offered £500 for it It is very likely true, but it is false that Cromwell had ever consented to restore Charles to power on the promise of the Garter, £10 000 a year and the earldom of Essex Cromwell was not the man to look back when he had once set his hand to the plow This part of the story is a mere Cavalier slander, and false as one of Charles promises.

The Fishery Treaty

The Boston Post the leading Democratic journal of New England maintain that the fishery treaty is a fair and equitable settlement The following practical remarks from that paper are a sufficient answer to the bosh uttered by small Democratic demagogues who denounce the treaty while knowing nothing of it

In the present instance we find our fishermen uttering protests against the treaty on the ground that it will drive them from their life long occupation They reason that the permission granted the Provincial fishermen to export fish duty free into the United States will add the single stumulus so much needed by them and that, added to cheap vessels and outfits with the fishing ground at their very door, they will be able to occupy the field entirely in a very brief period But that is quite as much the result of fear as of speculation Reciprocal advantages are to be enjoyed by both sides and that is a good basis to begin on And reciprocity of trade in general is to be restored and this is more still After that it shall appear that the one thing wanting to make the competition equal is due to a fault in our own legislation, such as high duties on building materials and stores involve, it ought to be an easy matter for us to reform our tariff in that particular and thus complete the pacificatory work that is begun If but a trifling legislative act on our part is necessary to secure a treaty that closes up a difference of half a century, and join two neighboring peoples in one union of sentiment as well as of trade, it needs no statesmanship to see that with us rests the responsibility of the whole matter

But it is worth remarking that there is opposition plain and outspoken to this treaty in the Provinces as well as along our own coast It could not be that if the Provincial fishermen were to come into possession of all the benefits of the new arrangement while we throw ours away, their dissatisfaction with its terms would be so emphatic We certainly must enjoy some favors which they feel obliged by the treaty to concede It must therefore be true that our fishing journals view the matter under too strong a light of apprehension Our merchants do not yet share any such solicitude They are congratulating themselves, in view of the possibility of the proposed settlement on a revival of the trade in fish at this once important port for that traffic and they sagaciously reason that as a direct result of it the West India trade will again assume commanding dimensions And our shipbuilders will on their part feel the benefit when Congress shall have removed the duty on building materials and made ship stores free so that it is not premature to infer a great increase of the coast wise fleet which is to day the right arm of American commerce It is incumbent on us to look at this question from all sides as it is evident that no settlement can ever be reached save by a disposition to concede as well as by a determination to secure

BIRD MIGRATIONS —It seems inexplicable how many birds find their way back to exactly the same haunts of the previous year, and this is more extraordinary when we consider the distance between their winter and summer retreats I have often wondered how tiny warblers find their way from Northern Europe to Central Africa, and at the very short time spent by certain birds on their journey The cuckoo appears in England just as soon as we find it in Southern Italy It has seemed to me that bird migrations may be performed in the following ways Such birds as push furthest inland at one point do not do so at the other For example the swallows and insectivorous birds that frequent Northern Europe may content themselves with the climate of Algeria and Lower Egypt, while the rest from Italy and Southern Europe push to equatorial latitudes and vice versa A great many warblers from Northern Europe spend their winter in the south and in the islands of the Mediterranean, while the majority go still further southward But why should individuals of the species remain in cold climates when others migrate to warm countries? For example The redbreast braves the severest winters in Britian, while the robins of Southern Europe migrate to Africa, and the same may be said of the song thrush and blackbird, and I ascertained that the same birds as met with in the South are relatively smaller than their Northern compeers The power to resist very low temperatures is somewhat strange I have noticed the pied wagtail, as well as the beetle and chiff chaff, become feeble when the thermometer stood eight or nine degees above freezing What a contrast to the pigmy gold crests and titmice of northern regions where we find them lively and moving about at a temperature of 24 deg to 30 deg below zero, Fahrenheit—Notes of a Naturalist in the Nile Valley and Malta

MAGNITUDE OF THE SUN.—A recent work on astronomy thus, by a comparison, gives us a vivid idea of the magnitude of the sun "Let the reader consider a terrestial globe three inches in diameter, and search out on the globe the tiny triangle speck which represents Great Britain Then let him endeavor to picture the town in which he lives as represented by the minutest pin mark that could possibly be made upon the speck He will then have formed some conception, though but an inadequate one of the enormous dimensions of the earth's globe, compared with the scene in which his daily life is cast Now, on the same scale the sun would be represented by a globe about twice the height of an ordinary sitting room A room about twenty six feet in length, and height, and breadth would be required to contain the representation of the sun s globe on the scale while the globe representing the earth could be placed in a moderately large globe
